CSS transition

transition-property: Specifies the CSS property or properties that you want to transition. You can specify multiple properties by separating them with commas.

transition-duration: Specifies the duration of the transition in seconds or milliseconds.

CSS transition

transition-timing-function: Specifies the timing function used for the transition, which determines how the intermediate values of the transitioning properties are calculated.

transition-delay: Specifies a delay before the transition starts.